

LETTER OF SUPPORT: To whom it concerns

15/01/2020

This is to confirm that Stoll will continue to support Veterans' Voices the programme initially created and organised by EPRA (UK) to deliver the project. This includes use of premises and mutual support.

We are pleased to report that the Pilot Scheme over the period February to December 2019 exceeded all our expectations and can be measured in success by the fact that it attracted the highest number of participants of any of our Health and Wellbeing projects and proved to be one of the most popular events. Testimonials are available from participants confirming that they are benefiting greatly from the experience.

The project also had visits from outside neutral observers who attended and joined in choir sessions to enjoy the whole experience and see how it works and Mr Kavaz from Mrs Alex Page's office at Headquarters London District in Whitehall was impressed at how professionally the project was being delivered, with excellent feedback from participants and his favourable comments are available on video.

Stoll therefore values the outcomes of the project and welcomes working with the EPRA UK initiative in developing the Veterans' Voices project in the future and to continue to progressively establish contact with the local community as well, as demonstrated by a successful "Gig" in the local Methodist Church in December. This also included a very successful concert in June with the Royal British Legion Band and the Wimbledon Community Choir.

We are confident that a large number of ex-military Veterans and their families will benefit greatly from this experience as it unfolds into other areas as a result of the recent pilot scheme at Stoll and becomes available through additional funding. We hope ours will be the first of many.
